Update external content automatically

About this document
This document explains how to set up your Blackboard project so that the external content such as daVinci HTML web documents or a newsticker updates automatically when the data is modified outside of Blackboard.

It is only necessary to configure your project in this way when your project contains only a single sub-layout.

Problem (öffentlich)

The problem with having a single sub-layout is it makes it impossible for the project to run in a loop, switching from one layout to the next.

Therefore the external content never updates unless you either republish the project or close and reopen the project.

Solution (öffentlich)

Please read the attached PDF document which explains step by step a solution to the above problem
